

Cuckoo

Cuckoo is a psychological thriller set in present-day London about a poor boy, LEE, obsessed with the family of his richer friend, ANDREW. Skinny, awkward and embarrassed by his middle class background, Andrew is swiftly seduced by Lee's violence and bravado, doing everything he can to emulate the streetwise behaviour of his new 'working class' friend. Yet while Andrew proceeds to distance himself from his parents (GEOFF and CAROL), Lee subtly attempts to replace Andrew as the object of their affections. Events come to a head when Lee discovers a jealously guarded secret about Andrew's relationship to his own sister.

Spying his opportunity, Lee sets in motion a chilling chain of events that will expose Andrew's feelings and leave Lee free to replace Andrew for good.
