

SAN CRISTOBAL

A romantic comedy about one man's struggle to repopulate his village.

"Our memories make us human, our imaginations make us gods..." Gabriel.

In the grip of a scorching Spanish summer, a small mountain village called San Cristobal stands on the brink of extinction. There are no longer enough villagers to carry the patron saint of the village around for the annual fiesta. There are only seventeen inhabitants left and most of them are pushing ninety. The only functioning young man is Rafael, the village barman – a simple soul, who spends his days dreaming of marrying Eva, granddaughter of his best friend, Gabriel.

Rafael discovers that to save his home, his livelihood and win the girl of his dreams, he will have to place his faith in a rag-tag group of homeless people.

Writer: James Rogan

Director: James Rogan

Producers: Carlo Dusi and Beth Sanders

Cast: TBC

Budget: €2 million